(Proceedings, 12:56 p.m.)

THE COURT: We are on the record in an in-chambers proceeding, which is going to be filed in restricted access. This is going to be just a private meeting at this point, but we're taking it down so that if need be I can share it with the lawyers. And we are here with myself, Mr. Brandell, the court reporter, Kristi Taylor, our jury specialist, and my case manager, Ms. Bourque, and we have _______. And we, of course, know your name and have the information on the questionnaire, but we are going to refer to you by juror number here and seat number, too.

And the reason that I wanted to talk to you is because I need to ask some questions, get some answers about whether you are in a position to fairly complete the service as a juror that you undertook. So I have a few questions, and I am going to give you some specific information that came to the Court, and that that's the reason for the trigger for why we are here.

And the first general question for is since you were sworn as a juror do you believe you have been able to follow the admonitions of the Court not to talk to anybody and to keep your -- your own counsel?

: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. And do you believe that you continue to have the ability to serve fairly and impartially and decide this case just based on the evidence?

1 : Yes.

THE COURT: And similarly, to the extent you had views one way or the other coming in, do you continue to believe that you are able to put those to one side and really just go with this case based on the evidence you hear and the instructions I give you?

: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. No concerns about any of that?

: None.

THE COURT: Okay. And those were the things in summary form that I asked you and the others during the voir dire process, and when you took the oath to be a fair juror that's what you understood. But what came to the Court recently is information which would -- would not only say you had strong views about the case before you became a juror but that at least to some people expressed the intent to act on those views to -- as in one case, if I am on this jury I will be sure there's -- they are guilty, there's a guilty verdict. These guys are going to hang, or words to that effect.

It's not like I have that on tape. It's not like I have anybody saying that under oath, but we have information that came to the Court that suggests you made statements like that as recently as Monday, which was before you became a juror, in connection with your place of work.

So I can see the puzzled look on your face, and so the first question is, do you remember making statements like that 1 2 at any time? None. 3 THE COURT: Just don't believe that ever came up? 4 None. 5 Okay. And in -- in terms of your place of 6 work, have you talked to people there about your jury service 7 before coming? 8 No. I just said I have jury duty. 9 Okay. So you didn't talk to them about 10 11 what the case is or --No. I didn't even know what the case was 12 until I came in Tuesday morning when I glanced at a TV and saw 13 14 news cameras out here, and I'm like, I think I know what case it is. 15 THE COURT: Okay. 16 But I didn't tell anyone what case. 17 I just said, I had jury duty. 18 THE COURT: All right. And for the reasons -- or 19 going back to the beginning, you are satisfied that -- well, 20 21 let me ask you one more thing. Do you think way back when, because I think I remember from your questions and answers we 22 23 had during voir dire, do you remember hearing something about the case like maybe a couple years ago? 24 Yeah. When they were first arraigned and 25 everything. I didn't follow the case in March.

THE COURT: Okay. And do you remember saying anything about it then?

: Not to my knowledge.

THE COURT: So from your perspective, no reason to understand why anybody would have heard, overheard or believed somebody else heard you say something like that?

: Yup.

THE COURT: Okay. And no doubt about your ability to be fair from your perspective?

: Correct.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Let me just make sure I have covered the things that I want to cover.

Okay. This is awkward for obvious reasons because now you really do feel like you got called to the principal's office.

: I've only had that happen once.

when I was in school. But in any case, the reason I'm doing it this way is obviously to follow up information that came to the Court, not verified, not anything that we know one way or the other, to see what your reaction is, to confirm one way or the other whether you are able to serve fairly or not, and from the answers that you are giving me here I can tell you are satisfied you can still do that and you don't believe these things were said or can't even understand why somebody would 1 2 think they overheard you say that. So you now have an added burden of not just not 3 talking to anybody about the case generally, but you have to 4 keep your own counsel on this, too, because if you have been 5 following, and you said you were, the admonitions not to talk 6 to other jurors about the case, this would not be something 7 that I would want to talk or have discussed among other jurors 8 on the case as well. You understand that? 9 Correct. 10 11 THE COURT: Okay. Very good. So thank you. We are going to arrange either through -- are the two of you going to 12 13 make sure can get out, 14 15 16 17 18 Okay. So they'll get you out 19 THE COURT: 20 so in case people in the press corp that sometimes hang around wonder why is this 21 one juror coming out late, then they won't probably see you 22 23 24 Anything about this experience, the questions and 25
